In that debate the great question of international law, and of the proper relations and positions of this country with respect to other States of this Continent, that are again arising in the proposed abrogation of the Clayton-Balwer treaty, and in kindred subjects, were discussed by some of the ablest minds that this country has produced. Among the debaters on this occasion may be noted such names as Hayne, Robbins of Rhode Island, Woodbury, White of Tennessees, Johnston of Louisiana, Van Buren, Homes, Randelph. The discussion was altogether one of the most able that has occurred in our annals. The speech of Col. composed merely of marine shells, and cemented together with lime; below this are the shales. The disintegration of these rocks has contributed to the formation of the soil in the timber portion of "Egypt," and is a ready solution of the fermition of the soil in the timber portion of "Egypt," and is a ready solution of the fermition. To look back into the past, when the ocean swept these hills, and under whose waves the sandstone grew from year to year, and where the saurian monsters of the deep had their play ground, and where the myriads of crustaces formed the soild rock, whose disintegration makes the hill sides fertile, is sofficint to put one into deep study and point out the small space and short lile assigned to us individually. Questions connected with the past rise unbidden for a solution, and we speculate, reason and endeavor to count up the years when the tops of these hills were "a thousand fathoms beneath the ocean wave," but all the record we find is in the wasted strats, the dates so erased by the hand of time, that we can hardly turn any of the faint outlines to count the thousands of years since the coal was swept from the sandstone when the sandstone began to dissolve into soil, and the soil began to wash into valley, leaving the harder portion of the rock to battle with storm and frost,—when the channels laid bare the lime rock which formed the heatomb of marine inseet life, which in its turn has yielded to the action of the atmosphere and in many places is completely dissolved, leaving only traces of the coral jusect which formed the substratum of the rock.

Thousands of dollars have been expended by our State to investigate its rocky crust, to explain the nature of its soil, to point out the hidden gems that lay under wood-crowned hills or swelling prairie, but thus far the information, if any, is a sealed book, as mysterious as the source of the White Nile.

Dealers in FRENCH AND DOMESTIC Of their success of the latest date received:
This morning, at twenty minutes past 1 o'clock, we saw a most singular apperance in the meridian over this city. A red stream of light issued from the havens, as though the sun was enveloped in a cloud. It re-embled the tail of a comet, but in a few moments assumed the shape of a sword of massive dimension, lying horizontally and pointing due East. The shape was quite perfect, the hilt much brighter than the blade, and varigated like ranibow. The moon stood southwest. There was a ring formed round it of a redish color, but not so bright at the sword, through which ran two lines forming a cross, the one pointing to the cartie valve the most side of the circle there was a smaller sword, of finer colors, pienting northwest.

This appearance was kept up for fifteen min nutes, whout any alteration, after which this magnitude the sun substanting and Facking, which we will guarantee to be far more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be far more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be far more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable than the Kubber, at each year to be a more durable t

Terrible Hail Storm in Minnesota.
On Friday, July 30th, between four and five closer, P. S. the neighborhood of Hazel Brush Prairie, near Union Lake, Fairbault County, was visited by a tremembous hail storm, which came from the north and destroyed the entire crops in that vicinity. During a period profusion, in masses as large, generally, as chicken's eggs. One of the stones was found to weight no less than one and a hail pounds. Jorn, whest, oats, buckwheat, and garden plants, were all breight no less than one and a hail pounds. The lightning rods are made of platina; while the great dome and the five crosses, visible at a distance of forty versis, are plated with 274 pounds of gold. The interior area is 90,000 square feet. The entire structure, as it stands, including the 113 gigantic piliars with Corinhian cepitals, the dome, and the immense bell of 75,000 pounds weight—with all its interior splendors of porphyry, of Carrarian marble and gold, the "loonostase," with its gift decorations, and the works of art in painting and sculpture—represents an expended capital of nearly pinety million thalers (nearly $20,000,000). The granite monoliths, measuring 55 feet in height and 7 feet dismeter at the base, cost each 12,000 the lers. 400,000 thalers were expended on gold ornamentainto. The Last Devil's Walk. BY CHARLES DICKERS. From his brimstone bed at break of day
A devil has walking gone—
To tramp and char the flowers to death,
To loftest the air with his pestilent breath.
And to cloud the morning run.

And over the hill, and over the dale,

And over the laurels of full-blown Fame.
And the tender sho ts of the young Good Name.
It is stamp'd with his mercliess hoof of shame.
And the feth is print on each.
It is the stamp'd with his merclies hoof of shame.
And he had a stamp'd grand he wrieried his tall.
And head would grand for ward he wrieried his tall.
And head would be shame if a grade and filly strewn was harken the stamp a leasthen one trail.

Like a snall-track over a peach. Ils prominence offered a capital shot;
Oho " quota the devil, " he sees me not," to he shoulder'd his piece and he aimed. Got wot

With terrible calculation!

He saw young innocent rike at play.
Blanciess, beautiful, was and say.
The prospect likesitan blancies.
To a virtical sate from his pouch be drew (Twas a devilat rise) and the iquad to Orr the fair young from, whom he left of monters scarrd and grim. He peered in a house; 'twas a goodly manse
Of time and weather had stood the chance

That breach in the roof is mended now;
I's whereabout few con tell.
But the devil had done his work that day,
to be crawing him back for his mester's pay,
Which he royally spent in a jorial way,
with the lowest devile in hell.

The Grand Jury came into Court at 11 o'clock and was addressed by Recorder Wilson as follows in reference to an article which appeared in Saturday morning a Democrat:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: I feel bound to again call your attention to an article in the Chicago Democrat of this morning, signed "Justice." It is stated in that article, that the Judge of this court has written articles published in the National Police Gazette, printed in New York city, in relation to what would be done by the present Grand Jury and the Recorder's Court.

It is also stated in that article, in substance, that "under the administration of Mayors Gray and Milliken persons were employed to prestitute themselves for the purpose of procuring evidence against certain parties; that such parties were tried in this court, conveited, and sentenced to the bridewell upon the same kind of evidence for which Brown is held to all.

I feel it my duty to say to you that the above statements, as well as meattor the others made in the "Democrat in relation to the matter of Brown, are entirely devoid of truth, and without the shightest ioundation, so far as this court has any knowledge, information, or belief.

I see that the public press are discussing the question as to the political opinions of the membere of your body.

It has also been communicated to this court that questions pending before you are to be discussed before political gatherings.

I have no desire in any way to influence your cannot be the propriety of at once dispusing of the case which has been made the subject of political dispussion, provided you have heard all the evidence alone, and without the least reference to any other codsideration.

Buppalo, Aug. 7.—Upon the receipt of the news of the cable having been successfully landed, a strong desire took possession of the people of Buffalo to celebrate the event in a manner becoming its importance. A committee was appointed, and to-night waf set apart for the celebration.

It is the proudest day Buffalo has ever seen. The buildings on the principal streets are brillianly illumina ed, bonfires are blazing on almost every corner, guas firing, bells ringing, bands of music parading, and the streets literally packed with an excited and joyous throng.

In the midsis of the proceeding, Gov. Ling, accompanied by the Canal Commissioners, arrived from the field of stemboats on the canal. They were met on the dock and received by the Mayor and Common Council, and escorted through Main street to the American Hotel, where speeches are now being made appropriate or the occasion.

Post Hood, Cape Breton, Aug. 6.—Early last evening the line between this place and Baddek ceased to work, and has but just been repaired, and we now learn that the line is also down east of Baddeck, and between there and Aaby Bay, which is the point where the New foundland cable is connected with the land line. Active measures have been taken to put the line in order, but this may occupy all day to-morrow, owing to the long distance between the telegraph stations and the nature of the country to be traversed. Numerous communications passed to and for from Trinity Bay vesterday, before the line went down here, and there is not the slightest reason whatever to doubt the trust had genuineness of the despatches from Mr. Field as published yesterday, and the rumors of deception, trickery, &c., have not the least foundation, so far as we know or believe.

Cable has been successfully laid between Ireland and Mewfoundland but there is no good reason to believe that the cable can be got in readiness to carry messages before the early part of next week, and by that time, at the further, the land line will be put in order and will be kept so.

TRENTY BAY, N. F. Aug. T.

To the Associoted Press: Since our arrival here, on the morning of the 5th, I have been constantly receiving telegrachic messages, asking for full particulars in regard to laring the cable, to which it is impossible for me to replay, as every momens of my time will be fully occupied while I remain here.

I have handed to Mr. McKsy, Superintendent of the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Co's line, my daily journel, and given him full permission to select from the same any extracts that he might think of interest to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions which will reply to the communications I have received to the public; especially those portions with the full press to the public; especially those portions with the full press.

CIRCENVILLE, O. Aug. T.—Our city was besutifully illuminated last night. All the bells were rang, splendid fire-works displayed, bands of music were out, beautiful failes graced the sire, which is a full press. But the continue of the U.S. Steamship and the continue of the U.S. Steamship arrange.

Hersmores in Lilinois.—Those who are conversant with atock-growing in Illinois are well aware that there is a good proportion of Hereford blood intermixed. The Tribane says:—

"We have noticed from time to time, among the Illinois cattle, steers that bore strong marks of Hereford be od, without being able to account for it until to-day. We met Wm. H. Sotham in the yards, who had informed us that he sold several buils to go to that State, the half-blood progeny of which, now three years old, begins to make this appearance, and shows points of excellence peculiar to that breed for beef cattle. We noticed about a dozen of these steers in the different droves to-day, and they are looked upon with general favor, and we have no more doubt than Mr. Sotham himself that fifty years hence the Herefords will take the lead as beef 28th. The ship Hattie Bell, had arrived from Australia with £300,000 in treasure.
